Business

Course Title	【SMR-8】 Preparation for the Entry Sheet (Self-Analysis)	Target level	2nd year or higher
Date	①8/30(Tue) 10:00~12:00 ②8/30(Tue) 13:00~15:00 *The same contents as ① and ②
Course Summary	Self-analysis is essential for writing an entry sheet, but many international students say they do not know how to do it. In this course, we will introduce several methods of self-analysis and work on getting to know yourself. Why don't you prepare yourself for the entry sheet while having a fun conversation? It will be an important learning experience to know how you are different from others.
Lesson Style	Face-to-Face(at Hakusan Campus)

Course Title	[SMR-9] How to write an Entry sheet. Step 1 〈Self-Introduction〉	Target level	2nd year or higher
Date	①8/31(Wed) 10:30~12:00 ②9/13(Tue) 13:30~15:00 *The same contents as ① and ②
Course Summary	This course is geared towards international students who will be writing an entry sheet for the first time. You will gain an understanding of what companies seek in an entry sheet, what factors to consider when writing it, how to structure it, and useful Japanese expressions you should know. Then, you will create an outline of "What you put effort into as a student" and "Self-PR". This course (Step 1) is the basis for the entry form.
Lesson Style	Face-to-Face(at Hakusan Campus)

Course Title	[SMR-10]How to write an Entry sheet. Step 2 〈Reason for application sheet〉	Target level	2nd year or higher
Date	①9/1(Thu) 10:30~12:00 ②9/14(Wed) 13:30~15:00 *The same contents as ① and ②
Course Summary	Making a good reason for an application sheet is not an easy task. The first step is to know the difference between a good motivation and a bad motivation. If you are missing the point, no matter how many applications you submit, you will not be able to pass the document screening process and will not be able to proceed to the interview. Make sure you have the right points (tips) and create an outline of your own personal motive for application. We will also touch on the motivation for internships (in addition to the actual entry).
Lesson Style	Face-to-Face(at Hakusan Campus)

Course Title	[SMR-11] Business Japanese@Job Fair 〈Vocabulary ×Listening ×Discussion〉	Target level	N2~N1
Date	①8/31(Wed)・9/1(Thu) 13:00~15:00 ②9/13(Tue)・9/14(Wed) 10:00~12:00 *The same contents as ① and ②
Course Summary	Vocabulary and listening skills are essential to fully understand the content of the company information session and to understand the company's attractiveness and features. Students will learn nouns related to departments and job titles, human resources required, and company overviews, which they will practice through quizzes and work to consolidate in their memory. In addition, practice listening to hear the necessary company information. In addition, we will discuss and review how to ask questions and behave at information sessions and what makes a company attractive to you.
